Receipts Yesterday Were Moderately Liberal for Friday

An Unexpected Buyer Appears

and Gathers Them In.

Yesterday was full of surprises on the he years, saying that he did not want iny more home. Mr. Bradley, the buyer for Nashville, was in Kentucky and the commission men looked in vain for a and the morning. Hogs began to arty on the early trains and when there were about a thousand of them in the aria beek Parsons was noticed coming was one of the big alleys with his coat a his arm. It was a cool morning, but nobe at the yards know when "Parse" out his coat off something is about to to is his cost off something is about to transpire of a sensational nature. It hippened that way this time. Mr. Parsons had not bought any hogs for a ling time. He said the previous night that nobody wanted hogs at present prices. He started in yenerday and bought every car load of hogs that he considered was priced to him at a fair value as compared with other markets. the as compared with other markets, d in a very short time he had about as one porkers as ever passed over as the porsers as ever passed over a pair of scales on any market. Some of the sellers refused to sell at the primes and held onto their porkers, but it was noticed that the most experienced shipno Need that the most experienced ship-lers is their hogs go. People about the yards leaned over the scales to see who was the buyer marked on the scale hook, but that column was left blank. When asked who he was buying for. Deck answered, "Just tell them that y u can't know." If frequently happens that a me of the big packers like Armour or Ladahy are behind Mr. Parsons when he goes on the market and sometimes he is alone. Nobody could tell last night who was getting the hogs. All that they did know was that Mr. Parsons was do-ing the buying. Some of the sellers thought their hogs went at prices a shale higher than Thursday, but most of them quoted steady to strong. The of their quoted sready to strong. The bulk of sales were at $1.50@1.53%, the same as on Thursday. There was very late difference if any in the quality of hogs on the two days; the average was better thus ordinary on both days.

All the states have it, no matter what they claim. Kansas has tuberculwhat they claim. Kansas has tubercu-losis in cattle as had as any of the cast-ern states. Missouri is full of it. Texas has it.
